2,208 Americans Held As Jap Prisoners

RESIDENT OF MT. VERNON ON CAPTURE LIST

Navy Announces 44 Ohioans, Including 20 Civilians, Are Being Held.

U. S. SEEKS RELEASES

Governor of Guam and Many Marines Are Reported Seized In War.

Forty-four Ohioans, including a Mt. Vernon youth, were listed today by the navy department among 2,208 Americans believed held as prisoners of war by Japan.

The Mt. Vernon resident is Gerald Leroy Beeman, about 22, a marine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Beeman of Mt. Vernon. Young Beeman has been in the marines about three years and was last reported at Singapore or in the vicinity of the Malay peninsula.

The youth was reported captured last Dec. 22, but his parents learned later that the report was false. His family has heard nothing from him in recent weeks.

Official circles in Washington, meanwhile, probed the possibility of securing release of the incarcerated group which included 1,008 officers and enlisted men of the navy and Marine corps and 1,200 civilians. Authorities said the chances that the prisoners can be immediately freed are remote.

First mass number of United States citizens officially acknowledged to be in enemy hands, the group includes much of the Marine corps and navy personnel who were stationed in China and who manned America's Pacific outposts when Japan made its treacherous attack last Dec. 7. Among them are many of the heroic defenders of Wake and Guan islands as well as the civilians employed in construction of defense works at those points.

The 44 Ohioans listed include

Shelby Youth, 21 Faces Charge of Ignoring Draft

Richard S. Rosenberry, 21, of Shelby, a student at Ashland college, was held by FBI agents at Cleveland today on a charge of refusing to fill out and return his draft questionnaire.

Hearing of the charges is scheduled for tomorrow before Commissioner B. D. Nicola in Cleveland. Charles Kirkwood, clerk of Board 3, where Rosenberry is registered, was asked to bring the file of the youth's case to Cleveland for the hearing.

Rosenberry registered last July and received his questionnaire shortly after that, according to the Board 3 records.

He visited the board's headquarters several weeks ago and told clerks that he had read a book which convinced him that fighting was wrong and that he wanted more time to "think it over" before he filled out his questionnaire, Mrs. Emma Pierce, deputy clerk of the board, said today. It was understood that the youth's parents had repeatedly urged him to return his questionnaire.

Board clerks said they did not believe he is a member of a religious sect opposed to military combat, but opposed it because of his own beliefs.

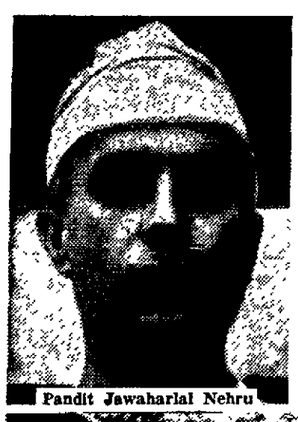
Leaders Plan New Burma Road



Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru

Gen. Chiang Kai-shek

Mohandas K. Gandhi

Mahomed Ali Jinnah

Talks between Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and Indian nationalist leaders Mohandos K. Gandhi and Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru had ended today in complete agreement on the establishing of a new and modern Burma road, dispatches from Chungking revealed. The new road, to replace the Chinese supply route now threatened by the Japanese advance through Burma to the Bilin river, would extend from an undisclosed Indian port directly to the Chinese capital. Mohamed Ali Jinnah, another figure at the China-India talks, is leader of the Moslem league. Nehru recently succeeded Gandhi as leader of the All-India congress party.

STIFF BATTLE RAGES ALONG BURMA FRONT

Allies Continuing 36-Hour Struggle 50 Miles From China Supply Route.

CHINESE BEAT THAIS

Advance Toward Important Base Across Border of Thailand.

(By United Press)

RANGOON, Burma — Allied forces officially were reported fighting furiously today in a big scale battle that has been raging for 36 hours in the Bilin river sector of the Burma front.

The fighting continued without a pause throughout the night and this morning after Japanese spearheads had thrust across the Bilin river within less than 50 miles of the Burma road supply line to China.

The main enemy attack was directed toward Kyaik-to, 25 air miles from the Rangoon-Mandalay railroad at Pegu, but a second big battle was in progress about 175 miles to the north in central Burma where Chinese forces had been stationed.

(Dispatches from Chungking said that Chinese forces on the northern Burma sector had defeated Thailand troops and driven them back toward Chiengmai, in an advance against Thailand, but there was no information as to an invasion of Thai territory.)

The Japanese driving toward Rangoon, which has been partly evacuated, apparently had been forced out into the open paddy lands of the Bilin front after a long period of attack by infiltering through the jungle.

The imperial air force has smashed with heavy damage at the Japanese Chiengmai base in Thailand and there were indications that the heaviest battle for Burma might be developing.

United Nations forces now were

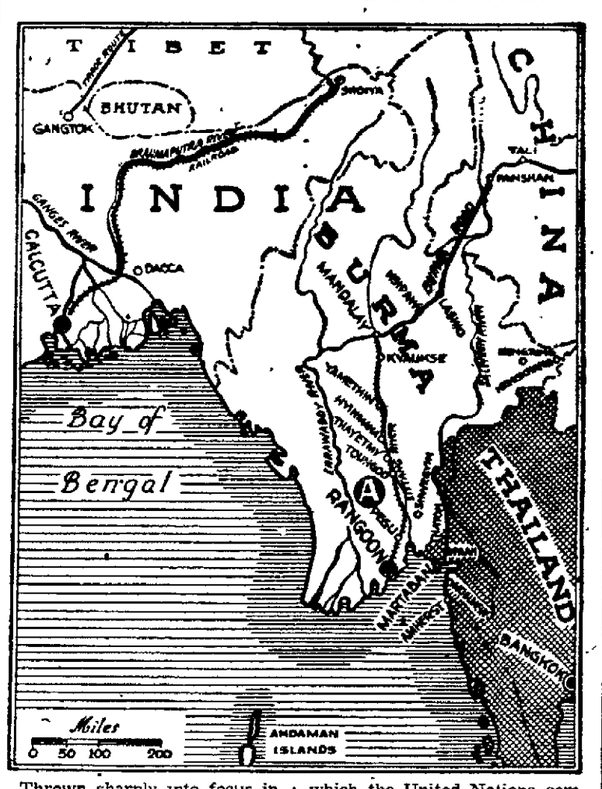
In Focus of Far Pacific War



Thrown sharply into focus in the war of the far Pacific today were the areas shown in the above map. Japanese bombers launched Nippon's first direct assault against the continent of Australia with two raids on Port Darwin (shown in inset) in which at least four of the raiding planes were shot down as Australian fighter planes sped to meet the attacks. In Java (larger map) American troops were reported among reinforcements landing on the island which the United Nations command chose as its Far East headquarters—at Batavia. Jap planes raided again an important Javanese airfield. Across Sunda strait the Dutch fought valiantly to retain their hold on lower Sumatra after the enemy had seized the important oil center of Palembang and pressed southward with the obvious aim of invading Java itself. Bombing and reconnaissance flights were prevalent throughout the entire East Indies.

Aussies Meet Invaders In First Direct Assault on Continent; Nipponese Renew Attacks on Java as American Troops Land.

BULLETIN

BATAVIA—(INS)—Batavia had two air raid alarms today—the first of the war. The capital of the Dutch East Indies was not attacked, however.

(By United Press)

SYDNEY, Australia—A strong Japanese air force of about 100 bombers protected by fighters heavily bombed the north Australian port of Darwin twice today, inflicting considerable damage on military installations in the vital Allied base. At least four enemy bombers were shot down.

The first attack on the Australian continent was made by approximately 75 bombers, accompanied by fighter planes, while 21 bombers participated in the second raid this afternoon.

Prime Minister John Curtin said that at least four of the 21 bombers that attacked the city and port in the second raid were downed.

Curtin's announcement, made from a sick bed, said that the bombers had caused considerable damage but that details were not available concerning loss of life.

Curtain said he would make a full announcement as soon as he had received detailed news.

"Australia has now experienced direct physical contact with the war," he said. "The policy of the government is total mobilization for all Australia. Until we have put the necessary machinery into motion, all Australians must voluntarily answer the government's call. Everything must be given, completely, to the nation."

An Australian air force communique said Australian planes had encountered Japanese fighter plane opposition over the Bismarck islands, northeast of the continent, in their reconnaissance flights yesterday. Japanese attempts to interfere with the Australian planes were unsuccessful, it was added.

Japanese planes made reconnaissance flights over New Guinea between the Bismarcks and the continent, the communique said, but dropped no bombs.

In attacking Darwin the Japanese had extended their aerial offensive 1,100 miles to the west from New Guinea.

The government urgently sought details, including the type of planes used and their starting point—an aircraft carrier in the waters north of Australia or one of the Japanese-occupied airdromes in the Australian defense zone.

A total of 44 Japanese planes had made a one-hour attack Monday on allied ships in the Timor

City to Purchase $10,000 Fire Department Pumper

Legislation Being Drawn to Buy Truck for Delivery Late In Year As First Step In Rehabilitation.

Legislation was being prepared today for presentation to city council at its next meeting to authorize the purchase of a $10,000 pumper truck, in the first move to rehabilitate the city's antiquated fire department by use of revenue from the half-mill fire levy passed last November.

While the order will be placed early this year, Service-Safety Director C. M. Crafton said that it was believed that priorities and war production demands would delay delivery of the new fire truck until late in the year.

The purchase of a new truck would enable the city to retire one of the "rattle-traps" which broke down on the way to several fires during 1941.

Council will be asked to authorize Crafton to call for competitive bids on the new pumper. It is also expected to act upon the purchase of 1,000 feet of new hose for the fire department.

Purchase of the pumper and hose would consume practically all of the levy division set aside for new equipment during this year. The levy was set up on a five-year plan with percentages being set aside for expenditures each year.

BASE BLOWN UP

British Report Singapore Wrecked Before Loss.

BATAVIA —(U.P.)— Britain's $400,000,000 naval base at Singapore, British naval officers said today, was blown up before being abandoned to the Japanese.

Demolition of the huge installations on which 15 years effort had been spent was in progress steadly during the final days of the Singapore campaign.

Vast quantities of supplies and equipment were removed by naval personnel. What could not be removed was destroyed.

The destruction was virtually complete on Feb. 5.

Council Due to Take Action In City Insurance Tangle

City council will be asked at its next meeting to take the first step in straightening out the insurance tangle which the city found itself in last month after it was discovered that Mayor W. J. Locke, an insurance man himself, had illegally purchased insurance for the protection of the city's waterworks system.

Service-Safety Director C. M. Crafton said today that council will be presented legislation to authorize him to ask for competitive bids for the purchase of insurance for the waterworks.

Mayor Locke went ahead with the purchase of $1,525 in insurance without obtaining council's permission and learned later that it was illegal to make a purchase of more than $500 without authorization.

Before the mayor learned of this, however, one of the city pumps was damaged and the Hohbaugh-Wolfe company, which held the policy, repaired the damage and was to pay the city $330 for the 33 hours that the pump was out of commission.

To add to the problem, by this time, the premium for the policy had jumped from $1,525 to $3,450 and the city would have had to pay an additional $1,825 to get the protection.

Crafton said that the only way that the city can obtain payment of the $330 would be if the Hohbaugh-Wolfe company was low bidder for the insurance and if the company and council would agree that premiums should be paid as of Jan. 1.

SHELVE BILL

House Committee Turns Down Unemployment Measure.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The house ways and means committee voted today to table the administration's $300,000,000 program of unemployment benefits to workers temporarily thrown out of jobs while factories are converted to wartime production.

Chairman Doughton (D. N. C.) said the committee action "seems to mean that if there is going to be any kind of a bill somebody will have to start all over again."

The bill would have provided for federal unemployment benefits to supplement state payments up to 120 per cent or normal state benefits for a period of 26 weeks. State governors have contended that administrative provisions of the proposal would constitute an invasion of states' rights, and would lead to "federalization" of state unemployment compensation programs.

AGREE ON NEW ROAD TO CHINA

Chiang, India Leaders Reach Accord on New Supply Route.

CHUNGKING—(INS)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek has reached complete agreement in his talks with Indian leaders and plans have been made to build a new and modern Burma road direct from an Indian port to Chungking, it was officially announced today.

Although no specific details were announced, it was thought the Indian port in question may be Calcutta.

With Rangoon, present port of entry for the Burma road which winds its tortuous way 700 miles from Lashio to Chungking, threatened by the Japanese, some new lifeline for the troops of Free China is imperative.

WILL REPLACE MAYOR

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — (INS) — Alderman John L. Bohn, 69-year-old president of city council, today was designated as the man who will become acting mayor when Carl F. Zeidler, 34, Milwaukee's chief executive, enters naval service.

3 BELOW COLD FOLLOWS STORM

Mercury Takes Skid After Blizzard and Two Inches of Snow Hit City.

The winter's worst blizzard swept across the Richland county area like a blitzkreig Wednesday, bringing nearly two inches of snow and a cold wave that sent the mercury down to three below zero this morning. Three persons were dead in Ohio as a result of the storm.

Mansfield was enveloped in semi-darkness shortly after 4 p. m. yesterday as the blizzard blotted out objects a few feet away and virtually stalled traffic. Most of the snow fell within a half hour during the blizzard, but intermittent squalls continued throughout the early part of the night.

The temperature skidded rapidly immediately after the blizzard, dropping from 30 degrees to about 15 above before dark.

State and county highway officials said the snow drifts were not deep enough to hinder traffic, but roads were slippery as the snow melted, then packed and froze. The city street department and state and county road workers cindered hills and curves.

A number of minor accidents were reported by police and state highway patrolmen. Two men suffered minor injuries in a collision in Mansfield, but damage in most of the mishaps was limited to dented fenders.

The bitter cold was expected to stay this afternoon and tonight. It was two above zero in Mansfield at noon today. The average reading for the past 24 hours was 13.5 degrees as compared with the normal 28-degree reading.

He was sent to Smith's room. There he gave the government $20.

WARNS NATION

Stimson Says U. S. Can Expect Attacks 'All Along Coast.'

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Secretary of War Stimson said today that the nation should expect attacks "all along the coasts and other places" like the raids made by submarines on the Netherlands Caribbean Islands of Aruba.

The secretary urged, at a press conference that the country be prepared also for pressure, from "thoughtless persons," to scatter defensive forces to meet such attacks.

"Yielding to that pressure would be the surest way I know to lose the war," Stimson said.

Victory will be won, he declared, by massing our forces to carry the war to the enemy.

He gave assurances that urgent preparations were being made now for offense.

Locke and Crafton Get Together But Only for Lunch

Although Mayor William J. Locke and Service-Safety Director C. M. Crafton had lunch together yesterday, the breach opened by the controversy over the "resignation" of the latter appeared just as wide as ever.

Neither the mayor nor Crafton had much to say about the matter today. According to them, they have not discussed the problem for more than 10 days.

Locke last Saturday supported rumors that Crafton had resigned by saying that the director had given him a "verbal" resignation and that he had accepted it. He said that Crafton was working out the rest of the month but would be through on Feb. 28.

Crafton has continually denied

EXPECTANT: Russians Await 'Good News' From Battlefront

BULLETIN

(By Associated Press)

Russia's armies, knifing into the republic of White Russia on a triumphant counter-march from Moscow, appeared from Red army dispatches today to be slowly closing a gigantic trap around a force of perhaps 600,000 to 1,000,000 German troops in the "Napoleonic corridor" from Mozhaisk to Smolensk.

(By Associated Press)

Soviet Russia's millions, lacking official details of the German-Russian war movements for almost a month now, expect Monday, Feb. 23, to be a day of good news.

It marks both the 24th anniversary of the creation of the Red army, a workers legion that succeeded the troops of the Czars, and the start of the ninth month of the battle against Adolf Hitler's invaders.

Russian citizens expressed belief today that Moscow authorities were holding up announcements of specific gains to make them all public on the anniversary.

The Soviet information bureau generalized again on the progress of the fighting, saying continued offensive operations of Red army troops yesterday had cost the Germans heavily in manpower and material.

In its mid-day communique, the bureau told of the recapture of two villages west of Moscow. It said the Germans left 200 dead on the battlefield there while 150 were killed in another sector.

Radio reports told of a smash through Nazi fortifications toward Smolensk, 230 miles west of Moscow; of a new Russian push toward the Crimean port of Feodosiya; of a demand by Finnish prisoners that Finland quit her war as an ally of "the hangman Hitler."

FLAME-THROWERS: Japs Use Fire In New Attack on Batan

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON—Strong Japanese forces using flame throwers and supported by a non-stop artillery bombardment are hammering at Gen. Douglas MacArthur's lines in apparent preparation for "a resumption of the offensive" aimed at a knockout conquest of the Philippines.

Today's war department communique, No. 114 of the war, reported increasing pressure on MacArthur's thinly-held lines on Batan peninsula and reported ominously that the Japanese are regrouping their numerically superior forces for what probably will be their all-out supreme effort.

MacArthur's right flank anchored in the vicinity of the highway center of Pilar on Manila bay was said to be under particularly heavy pressure.

For the fourth day the Japanese, using newly-installed batteries and trading tons of steel with MacArthur's guns, laid down a bombardment of the American-Filipino lines.

"Japanese troop movements behind the enemy lines indicate regrouping of forces, preliminary to a resumption of the offensive," the communique said on the basis of reports received from MacArthur up to 9:30 a. m., EWT.

Despite the constant bombardment of his positions by the Japanese guns and squadrons of dive-bombers, many of which are believed to have been shifted from the Malayan battlefront following Singapore's surrender, MacArthur's main line of defence across the waistline of Batan was understood to be holding ruggedly.

BOARD STARTS NEW FUNCTION, RATIONING CARS

Richland Committee Receives Order Blanks Permitting Delivery of Autos.

The Mansfield tire rationing board, which has been allotting tires and tubes to the eligible among the city's motorists, today started on one phase of its new additional function—automobile rationing.

Chairman James Bailey announced the board has received official authorization blanks clearing the way for persons who purchased new cars before Jan. 1 to obtain delivery.

Those who bought cars prior to that date but did not get delivery have not been able to obtain them up to the present, as these cars have been frozen on dealers' sales floors along with unsold new cars. Number of persons affected in Mansfield is not certain, but is expected to total approximately 10 or 12.

The tire board maintains office hours from 2 to 4 p. m. daily in the Chamber of Comerce assembly room in the Farmers Bank building. Those who are affected by the order releasing cars which had been purchased before Jan. 1 may obtain their blanks from the board.

This order is part of a ruling by the Office of Price Administration permitting owners of 1942 automobiles to sell of transfer their cars to persons who have been certified as eligible purchasers by their local rationing boards.

The ruling is intended chiefly to aid persons who might be called to active duty with the armed forces, to dispose of 1942 models, a spokesman said All transactions will be subject to the price ceilings set by OPA on Feb. 2.

The local tire board has not as yet received details on automobile rationing because eligibility classifications have not been established. It is expected, however, that these classifications will be similar to those prevailing for new tires and tubes.

ADVOCATES MORE SPIRITED MUSIC

LONDON—(U.P.)—Army brass bands in future must put more "pep" into the playing of the Nation anthem to the satisfaction of Gen. Sir George Jeffreys, who has long led an agitation for louder and more spirited renditions.

In the Kings Regulations, which is the army "Bible," it says that the first six bars of "God Save the King" must be played softly. The instructions now are being amended and they will be played "fortissimo" when circumstances make it desireable.

"Although a soft opening is effective and dignified in a concert room or broadcasting station," said a War Office authority, "the first bars often are inaudible in the open air."

POSTAL STATION UNIQUE

SAN FRANCISCO—(U.P.)—This city has the only Chinese postal station in the United States. It is used largely by the 20,000 Chinese residents in Chinatown.

What do I do?

"SOFT TIRES" invite trouble!

Get hit on the arm when you're relaxed and it hurts. Flex your muscles for the blow and there's nothing to it. The same thing goes for tires. Under-inflated tires don't have the pressure to withstand bumps from curbs, stones, rough spots in the road, etc. The carcass bruises, then breaks. Result—perhaps only a few hundred instead of 40, even 50 thousand miles of service. So "keep 'em up" with an inflation check at SOHIO every week!

MANSFIELD POLICE STAFF TO LEARN OF WARTIME TRAFFIC

Mansfield motorists, already getting accustomed to the idea of sacrificing their automobiles for bicycles and maybe even horses, have still another problem to face—wartime traffic problems.

Representatives of the Mansfield police department and the local civilian defense committee will attend the first in a series of three six-day war traffic schools for police to be held by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Cleveland starting on Feb. 23.

In the traffic schools, Police Capt. Jesse Schwab, member of the civilian defense committee, and Traffic Commissioner Frend C. Boals will be instructed in such wartime traffic problems as bomb damage to streets during air raids, bomb damage to buildings creating traffic hazards, operation of vehicles during blackouts, damage to electrical traffic control systems, accidents occurring during blackouts, pedestrian and traffic control during air raids.

The Mansfield policemen will also be taught the best manner to plan and mark traffic routes, to plan military convoy routes, to expedite the movement of military groups and to reroute civilian traffic for the safe transportation of explosives and planning for the movement of military and medical groups during air raids.

Law enforcement officers from 40 northern counties are expected to attend the FBI meetings which will be held in the Little Theater of Cleveland's Public Hall.

Other schools of this type will be held at Toledo, starting on March 23 and at Youngstown starting on March 30.

Eighteen destroyers and 13 submarines were launched by the navy during 1941.

JAPS LAUNCH BOMB ATTACK ON AUSTRALIA

4 Planes Shot Down In Two Raids on Port Darwin; Yanks Reach Java.

sea northeast of Darwin, without scoring a hit.

Darwin had had a three-hour air raid alarm, its third of the war, on Feb. 8. Fighter planes from the reinforced Darwin air base went up to intercept Japanese attackers, but no planes were sighted.

Similarly, no planes had been sighted in two previous alarm periods early in January.

During the Feb. 8 alarm, it was reported that a Japanese aircraft carrier had been sighted several hundreds of miles off the north coast, making toward Darwin.

Japan's first direct aerial attack on Australia came while the government prepared the country for total mobilization, believing a Japanese invasion of the continent was not only possible but likely.

Parliament meets tomorrow in secret emergency session and political quarters reported that the government would outline to it full plans to mobolize all human and material resources of this nation of 7,000,000 people to meet attack.

The government announced that it had decided to draft enemy aliens who had not been interned. Young and middle aged men affected will be put into labor squads for civil work. They will not be used in the defense forces.

The Japanese attack on Darwin brought home to all Australians the imminence of their danger.

In their previous operations in the Australian defense zone the Japanese had occupied Babaul, air base and port in the Bismarck islands 800 miles northeast of Australia, and at least one base in the Solomons nearby.

They had bombed objectives in the Bismarcks and Solomons and in New Guinea, including the port of Moresby only 350 miles from northeastern Australia across the Coral sea.

The Japanese held most of Ambonia island, the second biggest air and naval base in The Netherlands East Indies, 660 miles north of Darwin.

Darwin, the only town on the north Australian coast, has been an important relay point for airplane communication between the continent and the rest of the world, and it is now an important United Nations naval and air base.

Jap Bombers Attack Java Airfield Again

BATAVIA —(U.P.)— Japanese bombers renewed attacks on an airfield in western Java today but Dutch defense forces still fought stubbornly in Sumatra to stem the enemy invasion thrusts toward this strategic island.

A Dutch Indies comunique admitted that damage was inflicted in the latest Japanese airfield attack but said full details of the operations have not yet been received.

Japanese planes flew over a number of regions of the Indies, apparently on reconnaissance missions to test the strength of Dutch defenses, the high command reported.

Dutch ground troops, although heavily outnumbered, are still fighting in South Sumatra, the Dutch communique said. They are making every effort to prevent the Japanese from crashing through to the Sundra Straits between Sumatra and Java.

Dutch authorities distributed 1,800 war drums to natives in Batavia to be employed in sounding air raid alarms.

Each air raid precautions post was given a war drum on which to beat warnings to the people of the approach of enemy planes.

Defense forces over the entire island of Java, which includes Batavia, the capital, and the great naval and air force base of Soerabaja, were put on the alert for a Japanese attack by seaborne or parachutist troops.

182 Jap Vessels Sunk or Damaged

BATAVIA—(ANS)—A total of 182 Japanese ships has been sunk or damaged by United Nations forces up to Feb. 14, according to an authoritative compilation published today.

The total includes 109 ships sunk, 28 probably sunk and 45 damaged.

It does not include heavy losses known to have been inflicted on the Japanese during the invasion of southern Sumatra.

American ships and planes were responsible for 84 of the known sinkings, 15 of the probables and 28 of the damaged ships.

Netherlands Indies forces sank 24, probably sank six and damaged 11.

The recapitulation follows:

Battleships—2 probably sunk, 2 damaged.

Cruisers—7 sunk, 4 probably sunk, 11 damaged.

Destroyers—13 sunk, 3 probably sunk, 2 damaged

Aircraft carriers—1 sunk, 2 probably sunk, 1 damaged.

Submarines—6 sunk, 1 probably sunk 1 damaged

Transports—52 sunk, 12 probably sunk, 23 damaged

Cargo vessels and auxiliaries—23 sunk, 4 probably sunk, 3 damaged.

Tankers—7 sunk, 2 damaged

These figures do not include numerous minor vessels of all types.

American Troops Arrive In Java

BATAVIA, N. E. I.—(AP)—Aneta news agency said today that foreign troops, including a relatively small number of Americans, have arrived in Java.

Aneta added that American ground troops as well as bomber and fighter pilots, which already have aided in the defense of the Indies, now are seen frequently in the island, heart of the Dutch East Endies and headquarters of the United Nations supreme command in the southwest Pacific.

The agency quoted authoritative sources as declaring that the foreign troops have received a hearty welcome but that "their numbers are by no means large enough yet."

After Axis Submarine Raid on Aruba Island

NAVY REVEALS PRISONER LIST

Mt. Vernon Marine Among 44 Ohioans Reported Taken By Japanese.

24 officers and enlisted men of the navy and marine corps and 20 civilians. The men were stationed in outposts in the Pacific and in China. The civilians were doing defense construction work on Wake and Guam islands.

Four U. S. navy members were listed. They were Capt. George Johnson McMillin, governor of Guam, a native of Youngstown, Lieut. Herbert A. Markowitz, Cleveland, Gordon Erland Olson, Canton, and McPherson Placker, Montgomery county.

Marine corps members from Ohio included. Capt. John A. White, Dayton; Arthur A. Poindexter, Chillicothe; Gibson A. De Tallentire, Cuyahoga Falls; Corp. Thomas Joseph Pechsock, Orwell; Philip Leo Burford, Holland; Robert Harold McGee Glouster; Robert N. Smith, Middletown;

Earl Morris Broyles, Gayler Park; William Russell Bay, Cambridge; Chester John Bryk, Toledo, Robert A. Thiel, Hicksville; Willis Willard Anderson, Ashtabula, Gerald LeRoy Beeman, Mt. Vernon, Norman Ray Estep, Chillicothe;

Charles William Parr, Cincinnati, Clifford L. Ellis, Alliance, Corp. James Edward Hardway, Newark, Steve Alex Salay, Hicksville, Michael Jacob Schick, Cleveland, Paul G. Chandler, Plain City.

The 20 civilians listed were:

Alexander P. Batscha, Cincinnati; Glen D. Dean, Dayton; Francis D. Glanamen, Hemlock; Paul A. Gossman, Crooksville; Arnold Richard Green, Cincinnati; Ralph T. Martin, Marietta, Charles B. Moening, Lima; Denell M. Newhart, Evington;

Alex E. Polinsky, Niles, Doris L. Ralston, Barden; Theodore T. Reilmann, Cincinnati, Raleigh Kenneth Rucker, Lucasville, Raymond R. Rutledge, Cambridge; Julius E. Schmidt, Columbus; Glenn H. Thompson, Cadiz; Lloyd H. Williams, Beaver; Charles Woods, Lockland; Raymond C. Wooley, Akron; Michael Yarina, Cleveland, and Edward G. Maxim, Barberton.

The navy department stated that persons named in the list "are presumed to be prisoners of war."

In explanation, the navy's announcement said that "because of the interruption of communications and the eliminating of contact entirely when the various outposts were overwhelmed, the navy department cannot have absolute information of the exact status of all individuals who were serving in the armed forces and of civilians who were engaged on public works undertakings."

The Nipponese have not assented to any proposals covering exchange of other prisoners according to the state department. Transportation problems, officials explained, would make an exchange between America and Japan particularly difficult at this time.

The Red Cross, meanwhile, announced that every effort is being made to secure definite information from the Japanese government as to the number, whereabouts and condition of the American captives.

Chairman Norman H. Davis expressed hope that this information will be available soon through the International Red Cross. He said the American Red Cross will be ready to send aid to the prisoners the moment that sufficient details are obtained.

There was no indication in the navy report where the captured Americans are being held nor the kind of treatment being given them. Military experts conjectured, however, that the war prisoners possibly were removed to Formosa or southern Japan.

One military commentator said that as far as is known they have not been subjected to unduly harsh treatment.

making any resignation and said that the announcement was made without him being consulted. The director has stated that he will be at his desk until the mayor gives him official notice that he is to work no longer.

Yesterday's luncheon meeting came a few hours after Locke had refused to pose for a picture with Crafton beside some new fire-fighting equipment being inspected at the municipal building.

Crafton was already having lunch when Locke entered the restaurant. The mayor sat at Crafton's table but their conversation bordered on silence and both men said today that the "resignation" problem had not been touched upon.

The mayor said that he accepted Crafton's resignation after he had pleaded with Crafton to reconsider. When informed that Crafton maintained he had not resigned, however, Locke said:

"He can't do that."

STIFF BATTLE RAGES ALONG BURMA FRONT

Allies Continuing 36-Hour Struggle 50 Miles From China Supply Route.

holding a front which appeared to extend from the Gulf of Martaban, 75 miles northeast of Rangoon, for some 230 miles due north and possibly another 250 miles beyond that, northeast.

In the Bilin river area they were fighting on plains, with the last reported positions about 50 miles east of the Burma road.

At all points the battle was growing rapidly in intensity with hand to hand fighting reported in some areas and planes ranging in attack far along the jagged front.

Heavy reinforcements were believed hurrying into positions behind the Allied battle lines and there were indications that the defenders intended to make their last stand in the south for the Burma road at the Sittang river.

Chinese Defeat Thailand Troops

CHUNGKING, China — Chinese forces have met and defeated Thailand troops in northern Burma and the Thailders are retreating on Cheng-Mai, an important base 80 miles on the Thailand side of the frontier, it was announced officially today.

The veteran Chinese troops had been thrown into action in a vital area in an attempt to protect the Burma road of supply on which a Japanese army to the south was encroaching.

Persistent reports that the Chinese had met the Thailders were not confirmed until this afternoon when it was announced that a battle was now in progress.

It was reported that the Thailders had collapsed in the first phase of the fighting, and that the immediate Chinese problem was one of pursuit.

Dispatches reported that the Thailders had left quantities of supplies behind in their flight.

China's move, while it was already fighting a long and bloody waf of its own against a great Japanese army in China, had come with its leader, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, was in India in the interest of United Nations.

The first battle had come in an area less than 80 miles from the Burma road and roughly 150 miles north-northeast of Rangoon, toward which the Japanese had been driving in their attempt to cut the supply line.

Chinese reports said that the Japanese had five and one-half divisions, numbering about 100,000 men, in the Burma drive or held in reserve for it.

Chicago Girl Wins Auto But Ration Board Says She Won't Get It.

CHICAGO—(ANS)—Miss Maureen Casey was quite positive today she had won a new 1942 sedan automobile, a prize offered by St. Bernard's hospital at a Chicago ballroom Feb 11. Mother Superior Murray of St. Bernard's supported Miss Casey in this belief.

But a dissenting opinion was entered by Michael F. Mulcahy, rationing administrator for the Chicago metropolitan area. He contended the car must remain in no-man's land created by the freezing order last Jan. 1.

RUSSIANS WAIT 'GOOD NEWS DAY'

Expect Details of Advances Monday: RAF Lays Mines Near Helgoland.

Gneisenau and Scharnhorst from Brest to German havens through Dover Strait last Thursday, soon would be joined by two new 35,000-ton battleships.

These are the Anson and the Howe, newest members of the formidable King George V class.

Meanwhile, RAF bombers smashed anew at targets on the Helgoland bight—here the Gneisenau and Scharnhorst are reported to have taken refuge—and the London air ministry announced briefly:

"Last night aircraft of the bomber command laid mines in enemy waters."

The locale was not specified, but presumably the mines were laid off Helgoland to keep the Nazi raiders bottled up.

A German communique said anti-aircraft fire drove off the RAF attackers, and shot one down.

On the North African front, Premier Mussolini's high command said action was limited to skirmishes in which British mechanized patrols were repulsed by Axis forces in the El Mechili sector, 90 miles west of Tobruk.

In London, a British spokesman said Britain's armored formations in the middle east had been strengthened and that the "process is continuing."

British headquarters at Cairo reported the situation on the Libyan battlefront west of Tobruk remained unchanged, and said the only land operations for the past 48 hours have been patrol movements feeling out the enemy positions.

CITY ACTS TO BUY PUMPER

Legislation Being Drawn To Purchase $10,000 Truck For Fire Department.

of about $27,500 annually, the city will receive about $13,400 for new equipment; $2,200 for remodeling Station No. 1; $900 for improving Station No. 4; $5,500 for a new station and $5,500 for improving the fire signal system.

The same amount is expected for each of the five years. The same percentage will be set aside annually. If the city desires to purchase an aerial truck, it will have to skip the purchase of a new truck for one of the five years, to allow enough money to accumulate for the purchase. The aerial truck would cost more than the amount collected for new equipment in any one year.

Crafton called attention to the need for the new equipment last spring when he branded the antiquated fire equipment as "rattletraps." Residents quickly took up the nick-name for the trucks and gave the levy an overwhelming victorious vote in November.

Funds for the purchase of the new equipment have been available since Jan. 1, but this is the first move that the Locke administration has made to take advantage of them.

Mansfield News-Journal

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 1942.

Each of those Washington parasites probably thinks reference is being made to someone else.

There was some adverse criticism of British carelessness in allowing German battleships to escape from Brest—by those who had forgotten about Pearl Harbor and the Normandie.

Hint to dog owners: Sleep is essential to workers; work is necessary to win the war; barking dogs disturb sleep. Keep your dog where it will not arouse everyone in the neighborhood by barking during the night.

Prepare for Income Tax Shock

GRADUALLY, very gradually, more people are beginning to realize that their income taxes, payable this year on last year's earnings, will be much higher than ever before—and that many will be permitted to pay income taxes who have not heretofore been thus favored.

Final date for report on last year's income, from earnings and other sources, is March 15, but an unusually large number of persons are making their reports early, so as to "learn the bad news" quickly and get ready to pay all or at least one-fourth of the total by the middle of next month.

It has been roughly estimated, for those who have previously paid income taxes, and on the basis of approximately the same net earnings, that the amount this year will be from three to three-and-a-half times as much as was paid on 1940 income, which will be recalled as a considerable increase over the 1939 requirement.

An unfortunate phase of the present boost is the long delay last year in announcing the extent of step-up of income tax rates and the reduction of exempted earnings of single and married persons.

It is being forecast that taxes on 1942 income will be materially increased over those in effect now—possibly as much as a 50 per cent raise in corporation taxes and around 75 per cent on individual incomes—with some talk of a 5 per cent tax on gross incomes to be withheld at their source.

Appropriations for war purposes, and for thus far uninterrupted non-military federal expenditures, indicate that continued tax rises are unavoidable, with congress still engaged in the effort "to get the most feathers with the least squawk." All necessary time should be given to drafting an equitable tax law, but the public should be informed, as quickly as possible, just what the increased percentage will be—so that people can begin setting aside money out of 1942 income to pay 1942 taxes, instead of anticipating later earnings, as some are now finding it necessary to do.

Fire's Destruction Mounts

DURING the month of December, the national fire loss totaled $31,361,000—$7,439,000 more than the November figure. During all of 1941, the total fire loss was $322,357,000 as compared with less than $306,500,000 in the preceding year. And these figures cover only direct loss. They do not cover indirect loss—loss of business, loss of employment, loss of taxes, etc.—which runs into countless millions more.

It would be a grave mistake to think of fire only in terms of the money values destroyed. That is serious, certainly, in normal times, when there is an abundance of labor and supplies and time. In wartime the money destruction of fire is dwarfed to insignificance by other aspects. Fire makes ash and rubble of essential materials — materials which in many cases are dangerously scarce. Fire takes the labor of men and women—labor which should be used for productive military purposes—drains the nation, consumes human energies, and wastes irreplaceable time.

The great handicap to war effort which resulted from destruction of the Normandie — attributed to careless handling of a blowtorch, should serve as a note of warning to every person to use the utmost care in handling anything that might cause a fire. Carelessness serves as a poor excuse in explaining the cause of a destructive fire.

Another Percentage Change

THE UPHILL road to dependable sobriety is also noting a change in traffic, according to a statement just issued by the Alcoholic Research department of the Keeley Institute.

Until a year ago, a tabulation shows, professional men topped the list of persons seeking freedom from the habit of excessive drinking—but now it is skilled workers—contractors, mechanics, carpenters, steam-fitters and plumbers —who hold first place in the rush to sober up in preparation to take or hold war jobs.

Other disclosures are that the number of inebriate bankers has fallen off 50 per cent, as compared to last year, and that salesmen, who were previously one of the largest occupational groups among patients, have yielded numerically to the skilled workers' group.

Cost of alcoholism to industry, according to the research bureau's survey, is between two and a half and three billion dollars a year.

Changes That Cheer

MAYRIS CHANEY, the dancer who was appointed to a $4,600 a year place in the Office of Civilian Defense, has resigned.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt has announced that she will quit her post of authority in civilian defense "soon."

What are regarded as "more responsible sources" say that Frances Perkins will soon resign as secretary of labor.

Thus, with pathetic slowness, come indications from Washington that playtime is past and that the realities of war are becoming better recognized.

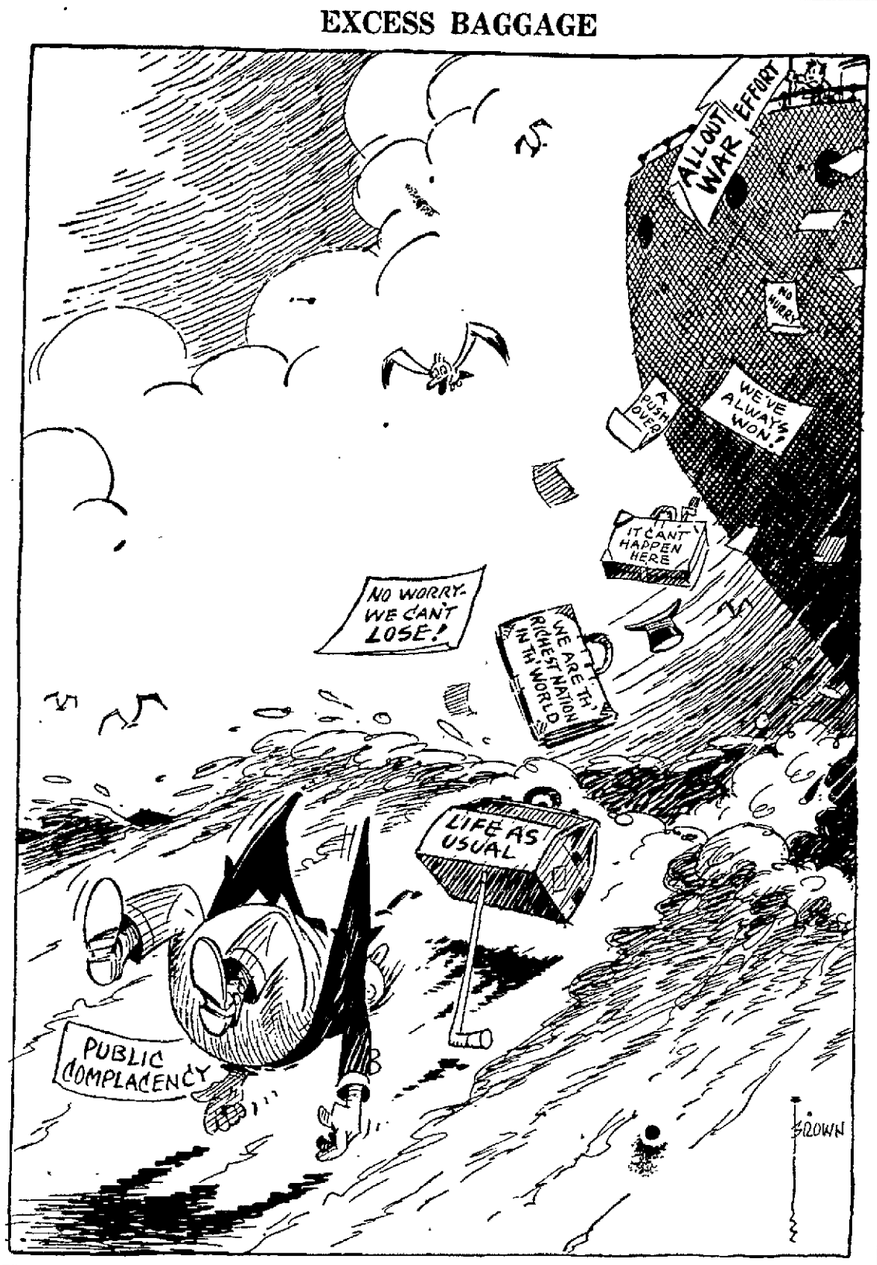
Item says 3,000 tons of high grade steel is junked each year in discarded razor blades—and if this information is designed to open a campaign for return of unshorn whiskers it need be nipped in the bud.

It has been decided to print next year's almanacs without weather forecasts — so April showers, May flowers, June sunshine and July heat will probably come as quite a surprise.

A visitor in Washington complains that his hotel room "wasn't big enough to swing a cat in"—but whoever told him that a hotel room was intended for any such purpose.

The Nazis are said to be looking forward to spring for another drive toward Moscow—but maybe the Russians also know that spring is coming.

EXCESS BAGGAGE



Public Asking 'Where Are Spies?'

—By CHARLES P. STEWART

THE truth is that we WANT some spies, according to some few congressional critics of our anti-espionage activities, such as those of the Dies committee and various other investigatorial bodies.

These commentators don't contend that enemy agents, operating among us, oughtn't to be detected and dealt with up to a maximum of their deserts. Their opinion is, however, that the public considers spying one of wartime's incidentals and feels that we're entitled to our fair share of it and are being neglected unless it's provided by the folk we're in arms against.

It's spoken of as similar to the popular demand for our due allowance of war's hardships and sacrifices. People were expecting 'em, they're rather slow in starting to pinch and there's a deal of wondering what's the matter with 'em. In short, participation in the conflict isn't as thrilling yet as had been anticipated and there's a good bit of impatience evident, on our citizenry's part, to have the excitement start.

Spies are supposed to be part of it.

Daylight saving, called "war time" by President Roosevelt, is another part— not particularly sensational, but proclaimed nationally, and a nuisance, according to my personal idea. To save my life, I can't see why it wouldn't have been just as effective to bid everybody get up an hour earlier in the morning, without moving our clock hands ahead, but probably it would have been more prosaic than it was to defy sunrise and sunset.

Plenty Of Commotion.

There's been enough commotion over the Office of Civilian Defense's inclusion of glamour boys and girls in its setup, anyway.

Of course the right way would have been to put 'em on a $1-per-year basis. No fault could have been found with that. Putting 'em on salaries running up into three or four annual thousands each was what made their employment vulnerable, though I don't suppose that three or four yearly thousands seem, to those high-priced glamourites to amount to appreciably more than a single plunk apiece at the end of every twelvemonth. They sound bigger, though, to use ordinary income taxpayers and are a good talking point to us, from congressmen who want to take a jab at the OCD outfit.

Incidentally, it was unfortunate that Mrs. Roosevelt was associated with the OCD's management just when she was. She's a woman of great driving power and undoubtedly was very helpful in organizing the agency's service, but her connection with it, at the especial juncture when the outcry was raised over the glamourites' subpends, can't but have been very embarrassing, not only to the OCD, but to the White House.

Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia's retirement from the OCD directorship, precisely when it was announced, was unlucky likewise. He had already arranged to quit, for being mayor of New York and OCD director simultaneously was too much of a chore for anybody even with his tremendous energy, quite a while before the glamour uproad broke out. Nevertheless, his departure with the glamour howl exactly at its height did tend to give the impression that he was taking it on account of disapproval of the glamourites.

Congressmen who don't overly like the administration have made the most of it.

Douglas Hits Back.

Lawmakers who have done so haven't altogether escaped some return cracks by the glamourites, however. One of 'em is Melvyn Douglas, the screen star. I heard him make a speech the other day, in the course of which he more than hinted that the complaining legislators were bawling out glamourites mainly with a view to diverting attention from congressional pensions and "bundles for congressmen."

Health And Diet

Answering Some Health Questions.

—By DR. CLENDENING

Mrs. A. T.:—"1. Is it harmful to take any of the various vitamin tablets without the consent of a physician? 2. What causes the eyes to itch and burn after reading? I have worn glasses without apparent result and a physician did not recommend them. Would it be a run-down condition? 3. What causes itching particularly of the back as soon as the cold weather begins, with no change in the diet?"

Answer: There is apparently no harm in the use of vitamin tablets, even in enormous quantities, except possibly Vitamin D. One of the reasons that vitamins have gotten such a hold on the public is that they do no harm—whether or not they do any good.

2. In ninety-nine cases out of one hundred itching of the eyes is due to badly fitted glasses. I would advise you to go to an oculist and be sure, to begin with, that your eyes are all right.

3. Itching of the skin that comes on in cold weather is usually due to too much soap and too many baths. The skin needs time between baths in the winter time.

A. I. S.: "Does peanut butter furnish a complete protein food?"

Answer: Peanut butter is twenty-nine per cent protein, forty-six per cent fat, and seventeen per cent carbohydrate, and is high in caloric value. No vegetable furnishes complete protein and peanut butter agrees with this rule.

N. A. C.:—"Will fruit and fruit juices cause the face of a person who is bothered with pimples to break out?"

Answer: No. Fruits are generally recommended as part of a diet that these people can eat safely. They are warned against fats and sweets, but not against fruits.

C. G. H.:—"Are rye and pumpernickel breads as fattening as white breads?"

Answer: Rye has 252 calories, white 259 calories per 100 grams. Almost the same.

Timely Editorial

Well-Remembered Story.

Alice Hegan Rice, who died the past week at the age of 72, was a prolific and versatile writer whose work found ready acceptance from the age of 16 until very recent years. Yet it is doubtful if the present generation, if it identifies her work at all, is familiar with anything from her pen excepting her one chef d'ouvre, "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," a simple tale of homely sentiment.

"Mrs. Wiggs," however, was translated into a half dozen or more languages, made into a play that was performed all over the world and had at least one cinema interpretation. It was one of those fortuitous creations, seemingly no better or worse than others of its type, that appear at precisely the right time to strike an appealing note and achieve popular success.—Columbus Dispatch.

Pleasant Dream.

Some nice day we expect the Pacific fleet to make a little circuit, reinforcing Midway island, recapturing Wake and Guam, taking another crack at the Marshall and Gilbert groups and then returning safely to the home base at Pearl Harbor. — Kansas City Times.

TODAY IN HISTORY

On Feb. 19, 1878, Thomas Edison patented the first phonograph. The form designed by Edison operated by means of a thin diaphragm set in motion by the voice or other sound and bearing a cutting stylus of sapphire which recorded the vibrations on a rotating cylinder of waxlike material. Some persons hearing it for the first time regarded it as supernatural.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Must Cut Enemy's Supply Lines Or Bomb Japan to Win In Pacific

—By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—With Japan extending long lines of communications down to the Dutch East Indies, it has become more and more evident that the only way the United States is going to win the battle of the Pacific is (1) by cutting off Japan's supply lines via China; (2) by striking direct blows at the main islands of Japan.

Regarding the first of these, it is already planned to bolster the Chinese army in order to disrupt Japanese operations. With the Burma road closed, however, this would be a long, tedious job of shipping and flying half way round the world.

Second step, bombing the paper and bamboo cities of Tokyo, Kobe and Osaka is more practicable. So far, the Russians have held out against using Siberia as a bombing base, for the reason that Vladivostok is squeezed between the Japanese army on two sides—and a lot of Russian soldiers from the Siberian army have been sent to the Moscow front.

Meanwhile, Alaska, whose Aleutian islands jut out to within a few miles from Asia, obviously are the best air stepping stones to Japan.

However, almost unbelievable obstacles have been thrown in the path of developing Alaska. For instance, one thing which Secretary Ickes has wanted for two years is to build a highway from Seattle to Alaska. At present there is no way of reaching Alaska except by boat, which is precarious in wartime, or by airplane.

So the interior department got the state department to write both the Canadian government and the U. S. war department about building the road. The Canadians didn't enthuse, but they didn't say no. The war department's position, however, was amazing.

Assistant Secretary of State Berle wrote Secretary of War Stimson a very tactful letter in which he assumed that the war department wanted the road built, and therefore, he inquired which of several routes Secretary Stimson considered to be of greatest strategic value.

To the amazement of everyone, Secretary Stimson wrote back that the war department didn't consider any of the proposed routes of military value and din't want a road built to Alaska.

This letter, believe it or not, was written in May, 1941, less than a year ago.

Today, however, the situation is reversed. The war department is actually clamoring for a road to Alaska. It can't be built fast enough. However, the Canadian government, while not vetoing the plan, still is not enthusiastic. Its position is that the United States can build it if it pays for it, and if Canada maintains all rights to it (since it is Canadian soil) after the war is over.

Good Gagmen.

COMEDIANS Ole Olsen and Billy House of "Hellzapoppin" were the luncheon guests of several senators the other day, including Democratic leader Alben Barkley of Kentucky, Tom Stewart of Tennessee, Mon Walleren of Washington and Harley M. Kilgore of West Virginia.

During the luncheon, senators vied with the comedians for laughs —Barkley with his best Negro stories; Wallgren, with his famous Scandinavian stories; and Stewart with his Tennessee mountaineer yarns.

Comedians Olsen and House had a great laugh, but the press agent seemed mystified. Finally, he leaned over to Senator Kilgore and asked:

"Say, these fellows I work for are professional comedians. It's their business to make people laugh. But you senators have them skinned a mile. Do you mind letting me in on a secret—who writes your gags?"

George Sylvester Viereck.

SIGNIFICANT fact about the trial of George Sylvester Viereck, charged with being an illegal Nazi agent, is that his defense counsel is Daniel Cohalan, son of retired New York Court Justice Daniel Cohalan.

About ex-Judge Cohalan, Viereck wrote a very interesting passage in his book "Spreading Germs of Hate" in which he described his propaganda activities for the Kaiser in the last war.

"Throughout the war," wrote Viereck," the Clan-na-Gael, a powerful secret Irish organization kept step with the German-Americans. Professor Kino Meyer, the great German authority on the Gaelic language, harangued Irish meetings, while Judge Daniel Cohalan inflamed German audiences with his eloquence."

Today ex-Judge Cohalan draws $15,000 from New York state as a court referee, while his son has defended various Nazis prosecuted by the justice department—officials of the Trans-Ocean news service, and Viereck.

Synthetic Rubber Probe.

THE justice department is now conducting a probe of certain far-reaching patent arrangements between the Standard Oil company of New Jersey and the giant I. G. Farbenindustrie cartel of Germany by which Hitler built up his synthetic rubber industry while we didn't.

The arrangement between the two companies was made in 1930. Standard Oil was given the right to use patents for synthetic gasoline throughout the world, while I. G. Farbenindustrie got the right to use certain patents for synthetic rubber throughout the world.

For several years, Hitler has been using the German synthetic rubber industry to equip his entire war machine, while the United States got off to limping start toward synthetic rubber only a few months ago.

These synthetic rubber patents were held by a company called Jasco, owned 50 per cent by Standard Oil and 50 per cent by I. G. Farben. However, when Standard tried to learn more about the German industry from its partner in 1937, Hitler is understood to have objected.

During all this period, meanwhile, Hitler was building up his war machine; threatening Czechoslovakia and seizing Austria—yet U. S. industry did little about synthetic rubber.

Note:—Don't get fooled by any optimistic ideas that there may not be a rubber shortage after all. Unfortunately, this is not going to be like the gasoline "shortage" of last summer. There are going to be very few new tires until the war is over—whenever that may be.

Watching Trends

—By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON— Joseph Stalin and other bigwigs of the Russian government purportedly prefer to deal with diplomats of the "straight-from-the-shoulder school of speaking."

On that score, the selection of Admiral William H. (Bill) Standley as the new U. S. ambassador to Moscow should turn out to the Reds' liking. Standley is a 69-year-old sea dog who speaks without camouflage.

Back in June, 1940, even before the Nazis had finally crushed the French army, he demanded the United States immediately declare that a state of war existed between this country and Germany.

AGAIN in the fall of that year, when German bombers were badly blasting Britain, he told the New York Young Men's Board of Trade: "You fellows have got to get war-minded." He assailed the stand of "2,000,000 mothers who pledged their undying opposition to sending our boys to fight on a foreign soil."

Said Standley then "When the time comes to defend our country, it will be just too damn late."

He urged a declaration of war against the Axis or, lacking that, the granting of full emergency powers to the president by congress. "I don't care whether it's Roosevelt, Jones or Smith," he said. "I think that's the only way to avoid a dictatorship."

Admiral Standley, vigorous for his age, has a natural liking for people which made him an unusually popular naval officer. He has a keen interest in foreign affairs and world geography. He rounded out 40 years of active service in the Navy as chief of naval operations, retiring in 1937.

RECALLED to active duty, he served for a year as naval representative on the priorities board of OPM. Last fall he went to Russia as the naval member of the Harriman special war supply mission and got a great kick out of the trip. Recently he has been in the office of Secretary of Navy Knox.

Admiral Standley is one of the best golfers in the naval high command, shooting in the low 80's. He is a topnotch bridge player. During the London naval conference he played a few rounds of bridge with Isoroku Yamomoto, now commander-in-chief of the Japanese fleet.

Yamomoto is the fellow who is reported to have boasted: "I am looking forward to dictating peace in the White House ata Washington." Fellow officers of Standley say he probably could give Yamomoto a good answer to that one if he desired.

A Farmer's Diary

Burdocks

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

DOWN along the garden fence, too close for the plow to cut the sod, a half dozen giant burdocks grew. Each stalk still stands higher than my head and rustles dryly in the wind. The woody fibrous trunk and branches are tough and hardy and will stand erect in defiance of the elements until spring, or far into the summer, if undisturbed.

At the base the soil is pushed away from the barkless trunk and a pool of water stands, partially frozen.

On ten lateral branches of this faded skeleton I counted 23 burs still clinging to the parent stalk. I estimated a thousand seeded pods must have been on this single colony. Fifty of these I found scattered within a radius of ten feet—but where are all the rest, I wondered.

About this place, in late November, I remembered, our Jersey cow had browsed. Her head, her flank and lower brush of tail were matted with burs. When I turned her into different pastures she rubbed them off on fence stakes, trees and brush. Our neighbor's herd broke out one day and several found fresh tender bluegrass near those docks and doubtless carried away burs as they went. Dogs hunted about this thicket, rabbits froze beneath the trailing branches—the children came in with knobs of bothersome burs when they cut elder stems for popguns.

Each bur had ten or twelve seeds within, that traveled wide and far about the neighborhood.

Yet no scientist has ever found this plant of any value. It is a weed that in all its history has made no friends—a parasite that saps the good earth of moisture and nourishment and gives nothing in return. Worse even than most hitch hikers, it hooks a ride and then galls and worries its unsuspecting, gullible host even as they ride along together.

Often in spring I have cut low each hardy stem of dock with a scythe or hoe . . . then in summer followed with similar treatment. In the fall, when I came by that way, I found the plant that by all calculations should have died, had grown numerous branches that shot from all directions beneath the ground. These branches were loaded with seed burs.

There can be no peace on earth where colonies of burdocks grow. They demand the best soil, they flaunt themselves luxuriantly—but they yield nothing and with their persistent, underhanded, hitch-hiking methods, they propagate themselves, stealing onto the finest farms. Even as I pile the dry skeletons up for burning, I wonder how many years it will take to undo last summer's negligence . . . how long it will be before we are rid of them, root and branch.

SCOUT TROOPS PREPARE FOR MEETING, COURT

Scouters' Jamboree Arranged For Saturday; Awards To Be Made Feb. 26.

Having completed their fling at conducting business in the Mansfield City building and the Richland county courthouse, Mansfield and Richland county Boy Scouts today were making plans for a Scouters conference scheduled for Saturday and a Johnny Appleseed area court of honor set for Feb. 26.

The Scouters conference, the 21st in a series, will draw all those interested in the movement in the Johnny Appleseed area to the Elks club at 2 p. m. as plans are made to correlate the two main Scout objectives of citizenship training and character building with the national war effort.

The Cubbing movement will be discussed by D. D. Montoya, field executive at group meeting while J. R. Turner, Troop 6 Scoutmaster, leads another group in a discussion of Scouting's position today.

At the same time, the Johnny Appleseed area council, under the leadership of L. A. Ott, area president, will meet in Scout headquarters in the Elks club basement for election of officers for the coming year.

A banquet will be served in the building at 6:30 p. m. It will be presided over by Perle Whitehead of Cincinnati, deputy regional Scout executive.

The court of honor will be held in the John Simpson auditorium at 8 p. m., Feb. 26. Promotions in all ranks of Scouting will be made at that time.

Floyd Dent, Scout executive, today said between 100 and 150 youths in the Johnny Appleseed area will be given awards.

J. Leo Hartmann, chairman of the area court of honor, will preside at the court. Court of honor sessions are held quarterly.

WAR BOOSTS THE USE OF SILVER

NEW YORK—(U.P.)—Use of silver reached a record high of 80,000,000 ounces last year, virtually double the amount of 1940 consumption, according to the authorities, Handy and Harman.

Increased use of the metal was attributed to the speedup in defense construction. Silver and its alloys are used to help build anything from a battleship to a bomber, mostly in the form of a brazing alloy, or solder.

Another contributing factor to the increase was the use of silver as a substitute for copper, nickel and zinc to release those metals to war production.

FENCE DECLARED 'UNCHRISTIAN'

LANCASTER, Mass. — (U.P.) — Though the Old Meeting House—The Lancaster Church—is known as one of the finest examples of design by the famed architect, Charles Bullfinch, it is remembered chiefly as the scene of a fence feud.

In ancient days two churchmen holding adjoining pews became bitter enemies—so bitter that one erected a "spite-fence" barrier between the pews so that he could worship and not be disturbed by the sight of his hated neighbor.

Ultimately, church authorities ruled the screen was un-Christian and ordered it removed.

Girls Form Club At Which Sole Business Is Talk

CLEVELAND —(INS)— What do women like to do best of all when they meet? Talk—about everything in general and nothing in particular—that is their favorite recreation. And that is just what the sorority sisters of the "Girls' Friday Club" do when they meet for two hours each Friday night.

The organization, result of a suggestion made by Walter Winchell, is composed of about 200 secretaries and holds "fun" meetings which are intended as an antidote for the all-work-no-play existence.

The members gather to talk about the tired business men who pay their salaries, sip cocktails, criticize each other's clothes, and generally let down their hair. No one mentions such unpleasant things as dictation, notebooks or typewriters.

Holding meetings of this kind is great fun and there is talk now of making the club a national organization.

JUVENILE CRIME UP

LONDON—(U.P.)—Juvenile crime in Britain is increasing to an alarming degree, according to the home office and board of education. Since the war started, juvenile crime in Britain has increased by 41 per cent, and in some months, it has increased by 65 per cent over the last peacetime figures.

In isolated naval stations our navy normally supplies medical services for the entire population.

HERE'S ANSWER

Census Reveals More Women Than Men In East.

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)— If men in New England appear to be henpecked and wary of the female, the answer might be found in the 1940 census which indicates that the Land of the Pilgrims has a preponderance of women. The latest census reports show that in the five New England states, there were 127,632 more females than males.

Out west, where it is said that men are men, it's a different story. In seven typically western states—Montana, Idaho, South Dakota, Nevada, Utah, North Dakota and New Mexico combined — were 149,022 more males than females.

However, the picture may have changed considerably in New England since the census was taken, because increased activity in seaboard defense industries has doubtless drawn many men to the great northeastern shipbuilding, munitions and aircraft production centers.

GETS $681,051 IN TAX FUNDS

City School System Receives Revenue From State, County; $31,457 From U. S.

Mansfield schools received a total of $681,051 in state and county tax funds last year and $31,457 from the federal government for national defense classes, according to the annual financial report of the schools submitted to the board of education last night by John H. Eisaman, clerk of the board.

County taxes made up $173,599 of the city schools' revenue, while the state school foundation program paid them $179,716. The remaining revenue came from special funds set up by the state for the training of handicapped children and the operation of vocational departments.

Total school transactions for the year amounted to $828,871. That figure, however, included bond retirement and money borrowed from banks and paid back during the year. It does not represent an accurate picture of the actual amount spent by the schools which was considerably less than the transactions, Eisaman pointed out.

He said loans, for instance, were listed twice, when they were obtained and again when they were paid off.

The board finished the year with a $30,000 operating deficit, part of which has been paid off from last year's county tax money which was not available until 1942.

BUFFALO AT $40 F. O. B.

BOISE, Mont. — (UP) — If you would like a buffalo steak or one of the shaggy skins for an overcoat you had better hurry—the 139 animals for sale from the National Bison range here are not expected to last long. Prices for the huge animals range from $40 to $60 f. o. b.

INTEREST BOOMS IN GEOGRAPHY

STATE COLLEGE, Pa.—(U.P.)—War is a definite boom to the science of geography, according to Dr. Raymond E. Murphy, of the Pennsylvania State College.

"War pumps fresh blood into the study of geography, which is allowed to stagnate in times of peace," says Dr. Murphy. "Whether we like it or not, we are concerned in the affairs of the entire world. Our entrance into the war should rekindle a wave of interest in geography throughout the country."

The study of geography boomed during World War I, but was allowed to stagnate in the years that followed, Dr. Murphy said. This lethargic attitude was reflected in a lack of interest in the subject among students, he added.

TRIM BOOK DEMAND

PACIFIC GROVE, Cal. —(U.P.)— Circulation of books at the public library dropped 1,500 volumes in December under the figure for the same month in 1940, presumably because of blackouts, Librarian Joseph Belloli reports. Blackout curtains and emergency facilities are to be installed in the cellar now.

There were 443 convictions under the white slave traffic act in the United States in the last fiscal year.

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

FARM SECURITY PLANS PROGRAM

County Advisory Council To Help Farmers In 'Food-For-Freedom' Campaign.

The 16 members of the Farm Security administration advisory council in Richland county had been delegated today to provide information to FSA clients and other farmers who participate in the "food-for-freedom" program.

A three-member committee also was set up to meet next Monday afternoon with County Agent George B. Ganyard and J. Alden Payn, county FSA supervisor, to study the problem of landlords and tenants. Members of the committee are Herman K. Lehnhart, Max McFarland and Claude F. Ewing. The group will meet at the FSA office in the Richland Trust building.

Council members authorized to give information on the "food-for-freedom" program are Ewing, McFarland, Lehnhart, Mrs. Mary Kanz, Walter W. Berry, County Agent Ganyard, Miss Rachel Mitchell, Turner Holt, Cliffe Guthrie, Thomas McBride, Roy Rogers, Harl Brown, Bert L. Cordey, Urban J. Fast, Lee Fry, and Richard Wharton.

The FSA plan provides loans up to $500 for farmers and part-time farmers to help them purchase livestock, poultry, equipment, or seed to step up their food production for the duration of the war.

8 Year-Old Boy Goes To Movies Twice Each Day

FORT WORTH, Tex.—(INS)—If all the movie fans were like Joe Northern, Hollywood would have fewer headaches.

Joe, the eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Northern of Fort Worth, sees a movie every day in the week. On holidays, he changes his routine a little bit. He sees two movies—one in the morning and one in the afternoon. On school days he rides his bicycle over to a neighborhood theater as soon as classes are out.

Does so much movie-going hurt his school work? No, indeed; Joe is an "A" student at the South Hi-Mount School, and doesn't neglect his lessons.

And the kind of pictures he likes best?

"Murder," Joe replies promptly. "I don't like that love stuff."

THEATERS

Press Comedy.

The ridiculous attempts of a sophisticated newspaper woman columnist to live up to her husband's theories about a woman's place being in the home furnishes fun in "Woman of the Year," the Spencer Tracy-Katherine Hepburn co-starring picture at the Ohio. Miss Hepburn plays the columnist who takes a fling at making waffles and coffee as the last resort in keeping her husband. Tracy is cast as the sportswriter-husband and the cast includes Fay Bainter and Reginald Owen.

Husband Hunt.

When a young lady goes to Honolulu to find a wealthy husband in the current Madison comedy, "The Perfect Snob," her father attempts to divert his daughter's interest. Lynn Bari appears as the husband-hunter and Charlotte Greenwood and Charlie Ruggles play the well-meaning parents. Alan Mowbray furnishes the "catch" while a newcomer, Cornel Wilde, provides the heart interest. Cesar Romero and Milton Berle lend comedy to "A Gentleman at Heart," the second feature, showing what happens when racketeers take to art. Carole Landis is cast.

Cagney Starred.

"Something to Sing About," with James Cagney and William Frawley tops the bill at the Ritz. Action with the Anzacs is shown in the second picture, "40,000 Horsemen."

Mystery Film.

Margaret Lindsay plays the witty and ultra-modern wife of a radio detective in "A Tragedy at Midnight," playing at the Park. John Howard, cast as the detective, tries to solve crime problems before the police do and as a result his arrest is demanded. His predicament increases when the body of a beautiful woman is found in his apartment. The cast includes Roscoe Karns, Keye Luke and Lillian Bond. "Jesse James At Bay," the second picture starring Roy Rogers, presents James as a Robin Hood character.

Pitfalls of Love

(A sequel to Marriage Meddlers)
By ADELE GARRISON

"I'm not showing anything to Noel which he doesn't absolutely have to see," I told Olina. "He's having a hard enough time to keep his mental equilibrium as it is. The best treatment for him, and the one I think he will appreciate most, is to leave him entirely alone."

"Yes, I can imagine that," she said, taking her hand from the door, and in a second more we were through it, into the bedroom of the adjoining suite, and on into the living room.

"I didn't knock," I apologized.

"No apology is necessary, my dear Madge," Olga said. "But do tell me if there is any way in which I can be of service to you."

"Yes, there is something I want to ask of you," I said, and Olina spoke quickly.

"Aunt Madge has said she doesn't need me any longer," she said, "so if there is nothing I can do for you, Mama, I'll run along back to our apartment."

"You are excused," her mother told her, smiling affectionately at her. Olina made her adieux in the rather stately foreign fashion which she still uses.

Her mother looked after her fondly, but with an appraising look in her eyes.

"Olina has changed much, do you not think so?" she asked, and I wondered if I were mistaken, or was there something significant in her query.

"I would not say she had changed much," I answered, judicially playing down my own corroborating impression. "I don't think I should like to have her much changed. But she does seem—well, easier, more contented."

"Yes, she has ceased rebelling at Fate," Olga said, then looked uncertainly at me.

"Sometime," she said, "when this present emergency is over and you have time to listen to me, I should like to explain some things to you about Olina; events that happened after she returned from her incognito visit to this country. I think they were the cause of her unrest and her pursuit of Noel—yes, that is what it was—" she emphasized.

To Explain Later.

"You may explain to me now," I said quickly and cordially. "I haven't much time, it is true, but I will gladly stretch it to its limit for you."

"I wouldn't permit it," she returned. "Please tell me what it is you wish of me."

"There are two things," I said. "The first is just something I must have done tonight, and which I am afraid I shall not be here to do."

As swiftly as possible I recounted the conversation Olina and I had had with Stephen Redfield, and the manner in which he had taken our bait.

"He is very vain, that Redfield," she commented.

"Yes, he is," I asserted, and went on to tell her of the warning letter I had given to Olina, to be handed to Mary for reading before she should see Stephen at the theater.

Gives Note to Olga.

"But she may come to the hotel before she goes to the theater," I said, "and as I wish her to get my warning as soon as possible, I have make a carbon of the note and put it in this envelope."

I held up the envelope in my hand, and Olga smilingly put hers out and took it from me.

"I don't need to be a gypsy soothsayer to see what you wish of me," she said, "and I promise not to let this out of my possession until I give it to Mary. I shall put a note into her box downstairs telling her to see me before she goes to the theater, and I shall wait in her apartment — with Philip or without, just as he chooses—during the time that she might come there. Does this meet with your approval?"

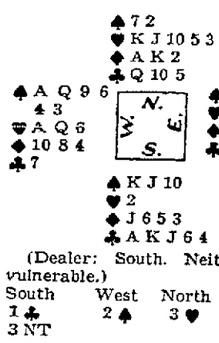
"The Authority on Authorities"

ASSURE YOUR CONTRACT

Going after extra tricks is all right if it doesn't risk your contract. It is all right even then, if you are taking your chances between two risky ways of making it, one of which barely makes your contract and the other of which gives you more tricks. But when your contract is positively in sight by one method, and another risks it, the reward of the additional tricks is seldom worth the hazard.



(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♣	2 ♠	3 ♥	Pass
3 NT

That was funny bidding by West, with a double purpose, to get his side into a game contract at spades if his partner had anything worth while, but more important to impede the opponents and perhaps crowd them into the wrong contract. As it happened, West did not accomplish either of these objects with his odd call, but he did encourage South into spilling his own apple cart.

The opening lead was the spade 6, which rode to the J. With eight tricks in sight, South needed to build only one to be sure of his game, and he judged the best try was to build a heart trick at once, by leading the 2 toward the K. West came in with the A and, hoping South possessed a singleton, so he could not lead the suit again to finesse against the heart Q, returned his diamond 4.

Seeing a possible chance, with nine tricks now sure, to gain an extra one if West had the diamond Q, and realizing the value of extra tricks in a duplicate, South called the diamond 2 from dummy, expecting thus to score his J. Even if East had the Q, as he did, South felt that he would be unable to lead back a spade, as the 2-Spades jump by West undobtedly betokened a seven-card suit. But East did have another spade, so that West took five more spade tricks, setting the contract three tricks.

If South had come up on that diamond trick and then led his clubs, any discards made by West would have raised so much trouble with him that South could have made an extra trick by tossing him into the lead at the end. But the main point is that, with nine tricks sure, they should not have been jeopardized in order to try for a tenth.

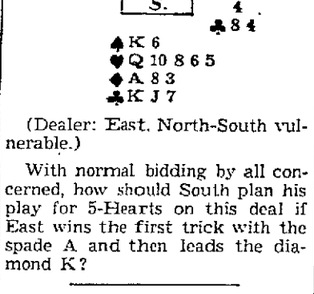
Tomorrow's Problem.



(Dealer: East. North-South vulnerable.)

With normal bidding by all concerned, how should South plan his play for 5-Hearts on this deal if East wins the first trick with the spade A and then leads the diamond K?

HOROSCOPE

For Friday, February 20.
By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

While on this day great and ambitious projects are under highly accelerating planetary influences, yet there may be some determined opposition either from the public, community or other organized institutions or bodies. Employers, superiors and other influential personages may be disposed to cooperate and there may be surprising benefits. Travel, change, professional matters may thrive but be prudent in all relations and changes.

Those whose birthday it is should have excellent augurics for definite progress in many lines of endeavor, with high achievements in finance as well as professional, business and cultural lines. Advanced goals in such direction are encouraged although there is hint of want of approbation or assistance if not decisive opposition from public, group or organized bodies. However, good friends and supporters of influence are at hand, and probably offer surprising cooperation.

A child born on this day while having excellent judgment, noble ideals and aspirations supported by practical constructive abilities yet may suffer from public or organized bodies. However, it should have much progress, versatility and good fortune, reaching possibly influential position.

London Had 154 Air Raid Alerts During Past Year

LONDON — (INS) — London had 154 air raid alerts during 1941.

During the last four and a half months of 1940 there were more than 400 warnings.

Londoners who dived into underground shelters for the duration of each raid spent 300 hours below ground throughout the whole year, as compared with 1180 hours during the intense raids from August to December 1940.

August, September and October last year were entirely free from warnings. During December there was one alert. Officials wanted to make sure the sirens were still in working order so they sounded a "two-minute alert."

SWIMMER IN WAR CAMP

LONDON—(U.P.)—T. W. Burgess, the Yorkshireman who swam the English channel in 1911, according to a postcard just received in Britain, is in Stalag 142—the German prison camp at Besancon, France.

For eating, for juice, for every use—be sure to get California Navel Oranges. Those stamped "Sunkist" on the skin are the finest from 14,500 cooperating growers.

How to make Pillsbury's Savory Salmon Casserole

A hearty one dish supper!

Complete recipe:

1. Pan fry 1 c. chopped celery, ¼ c chopped green pepper, ¼ c chopped onion, 1 c sliced canned mushrooms in 2 Tbsps butter until tender. 2. Add 2 c. (1 lb. can) flaked salmon, 1¼ c. canned whole-kernel corn, well drained. 3. Combine ¼ c. butter and 5 Tbsps Enriched Pillsbury's Best Flour in saucepan over direct heat. Add 2½ c. milk gradually, stirring until thickened (Note the smooth, creamy goodness Pillsbury's Best gives this simple white sauce! Samples of Pillsbury's Best are tested every hour to insure the inviting creamy white color that makes your foods look so appetizing.) Add 1 tsp. salt, ½ tsp curry powder, and a dash of pepper. 4. Add salmon mixture. TOP WITH FLAKY FINGER ROLLS: 6 Sift and measure 1 c Enriched Pillsbury's Best Flour. Add 1½ tsp baking powder (or 1 tsp. double-acting) and ½ tsp salt; sift again. (You can give your family the benefit of two B vitamins and iron by regular use of Enriched Pillsbury's Best. This enrichment in no way affects the appearance, flavor, or fine baking quality of Pillsbury's Best.) 7. Cut in 2 Tbsps. shortening until quite fine. Add 6 Tbsps. milk (about); mix until all flour is dampened. 8. Knead lightly on a floured board a few seconds. 9. Divide in 6 equal pieces; shape each into a finger roll (Notice how tender your dough is, how easy-to-handle, when made with Pillsbury's Best! This superb flour is the product of wheats which are selected, milled, and bake-proved with one goal in mind—your baking success! Rigid baking tests are made 4 to 6 times a day during milling, and samples are tested every hour for creamy, uniform color.) 10. Place finger rolls in cartwheel formation over hot mixture. 11. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 25 to 30 min. The enticing aroma of Savory Salmon Casserole, a-bubble in the oven, brings husband, children (even guests!) hungrily to the kitchen. And then, when they take their first bite of that tender, flaky topping, you'll know why we say—Pillsbury's Best is your best choice every time you bake! More Bake-Proved, Jury-picked recipes in every bag!

PLANT TO SELL

Davey's Steel Firm Will Be Liquidated May 1.

The Cleveland Steel company headed by W. H. Davey, former Mansfielder, and named for him will liquidate its inventories about May 1, President Harry L. Berno of the firm said yesterday.

Officers of the small steel company announced several days ago that they were forced to liquidate because of their inability to obtain supplies of steel under war conditions.

The plant will be purchased by the Zack Metals company of Detroit, it was said.

Davey operated the Mansfield Sheet and Tin Plate company, forerunner of the Empire Sheet and Tin Plate company in Mansfield.

GEN. JOHNSON:

By GEN. HUGH S. JOHNSON.

WASHINGTON—At the request of AFL and CIO and some government agencies, a "labor leader" may now be deferred from the draft. So the Washington headquarters of selective service announces.

A good many interpretations are being given to this. From the only really bitter lesson of the draft of World War One, it was learned that "blanket exemptions" were wholesale escape avenues for a whole favored class. For a man to be exempt, merely because he could show that he was a railroad man or a ship-builder, deprived the local board of an opportunity to see what that meant to the winning of the war.

Gen. Johnson.

Too frequently it was found that it didn't mean anything. It was the chief complaint of our returning soldiers.

So this time it was written in the law that it isn't a man's calling alone that counts. He must show that he is engaged in a civilian job necessary to "expedite the successful prosecution of the war." He must be a "top" man, says the selective service headquarters.

The latter is a pretty loose term. It would include a good many racketeering "labor leaders" like Willie Bioff who is now behind the bars. Labor leadership is generally supposed to be an elective office and in the great democracy of labor, there is no "top" man until you get pretty well up toward the national organization. If there are "top" men locally their conduct frequently would bear inspection.

The record of the real "top" men working in jobs "necessary to expedite the successful prosecution of war" has been nothing to write home about in the past year-and-a-half. I am not talking about actual defense workers in factories.

Your true "top" man usually isn't employed in any factory. He is paid by those who are so employed by dues collected out of their wages.

The number of man-hours lost in war production, many of them in "jurisdictional disputes" in which the employer is not even a party, is a positive disgrace. Could any "labor leader" engaged in one of these be regarded as necessary in the successful prosecution of the war?

I am reliably informed that in Egypt and China there are upwards of 500 crated American planes that have been there for weeks but on account of a strike in a propeller plant, have no propellers and won't have any for many more weeks.

It is common knowledge that many strikers, slowing up whole production lines, have been craftily pulled in some department, small in itself, but so placed in the line of production that it ties up one and sometimes many great plants.

You may think that this is well over or on the wane. Remember how shortly after the joyous get-together meeting of AFL and CIO leaders with the president, Philip Murray came forth with his direction to all his unions to demand $1 a day extra wage and other concessions not now generally granted. That means a big new struggle if it is pursued.

Furthermore, if CIO wins in that fight, AFL will have to take it up and be as successful or fade out. Together they claim about 10,000,000 members or counting 250 working days, $2,500,000,000 a year. Is that, and what will go with it, aiding the successful prosecution of the war?"

Push Bills to Hike Soldier, Sailor Pay

SEES BROADER INCOME TAX OR PAYROLL LEVY

Senator Declares Extra Levy Needed To Reach Goal of Seven Billions.

WASHINGTON — (AP)—Senator George (D., Ga.) predicted today that congress would be forced to broaden the base of income taxes or impose a sales tax or payroll levy if it hoped to increase revenues by $7,000,000,000 in the next fiscal year.

George, chairman of the senate finance committee, already has announced his opposition to lowering the present individual income exemptions of $750 for single persons and $1,500 for married persons.

He said that so far as he knew the treasury remained firmly opposed to a sales levy and had no intention of recommending a payroll tax. President Roosevelt called for a $7,000,000,000 general revenue increase in his budget message last month.

George said there had been some discussion of attempting to collect income taxes on a month-to-month basis through a 15 per cent withholding levy on payrolls. By this system, he said, the government would take 15 per cent of salaries each month, the total being applied against the amount due on the regular income tax at the end of the year.

To obtain the extra revenue requested by President Roosevelt, treasury experts were understood to have charted a $3,000,000,000 increase in corporation levies and a boost ranging from $1,500,000,000 to $2,000,000,000 in individual income taxes. The remaining $2,000,000,000 would be obtained by plugging loopholes in the present law and by increasing and broadening excise levies.

Discussion of a withholding levy to be imposed in addition to the regular income tax has been widespread in congress and Senator Taft (R., Ohio), another finance committee member, said he thought it might be necessary to impose a 10 per cent tax of this nature on incomes from dividends and interest, as well as salaries.

While President Roosevelt's suggestion for an additional $2,000,000,000 in social security levies—over and above the $7,000,000,000 general tax boost—has been laid aside temporarily, George said that opposition already was beginning to develop to any increase in these taxes. He estimated that old age benefit levies of 1 per cent on employers and an equal amount on employes would have to be tripled to bring in that amount.

Up and Down THE STREET

Home flower growers torn between raising blooms during war time and converting their soil into a vegetable garden took heart last night from the message Joseph H. Boyd, extension horticulturist at Ohio State university, gave the Mansfield Garden Center. Boyd told his hearers not to give up flowers because "flowers are morale builders" and just as vital to living under war time conditions as many of the other things deemed necessities.

Mansfield firemen were puzzling today over the freak escape of a Christmas tree from the flames which consumed the First Congregational church. The tree stood on the end of a plank which had been hanging out one of the windows at the rear of the church. Someone had evidently placed the tree on one end of the plank and had closed the window sash over the other end of the board, holding it in place. Despite the flames and heavy streams of water, the Christmas tree was undisturbed and still remains at the end of the plank, not even singed.

Forty-five Mansfield couples drove through last night's blizzard to Malabar for the Junior Association of Commerce Monte Carlo party and bridge luncheon at which Louis Bromfield gave a short talk. The party served as a farewell for Don Kirkpatrick, J. A. C. president, and Peter Schadek, secretary, who leave Feb. 26 for military service. Only a few reservations for the affair were cancelled because of the storm.

Richland county has 3,555 more male residents than women and girls in a total population of 73,853, according to census statistics released today by the U. S. bureau of census. The report listed 38,704 males and 35,149 females. The county has 3,778 foreign-born residents and a colored population of 1,972. Only nine members of races other than white and negro were listed. Of the county's total population, 12,734 persons, or approximately 17 per cent, live on farms.

SPONSORS ASK DOUBLING OF MONTHLY WAGE

Hit Administration Failure To Take Stand; Seek Family Allowances.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Bills to raise soldiers' and sailors' pay and provide living allowance for their families were pushed forward today by legislative sponsors who criticized the administration for failure to take a stand on the two measures.

Senator Johnson (D-Colo) introduced legislation to increase the base pay of enlisted men from $21 to $42 a month and raise officers' pay on a sliding scale.

Rep. Edmiston (D. W. Va.) proposed establishing an allotment and allowance system patterned after that of the first World war, under which enlisted men would be required to send at least $15 a month home to dependents, while the government provided another $15.

The Johnson bill not only would raise the base pay of enlisted men to $42, but would provide further increases for length of service, up to $207 a month for a master sergeant with 30 years' service.

Edmiston said his measure provided higher government allowances than those of 1917-18—a maximum of $50 for a wife with four children—and indicated the department did not like it for that reason.

Edmiston's measure provides for administration by the veterans' administration, but the West Virginian said he understood that federal security administrator Paul V McNutt was "trying to get administration of it."

Both the Johnson and Edmiston measures were introduced more than a month ago and have been held up by the budget bureau and the war department's failure to act on them. Both senators indicated today, however, that they would press for early action.

MAN SLAIN IN OHIO SHOOTING

'One-Man Vice Squad' Thinks Bullets Were Intended For Him—He Got One.

(By Associated Press)

YOUNGSTOWN — One man is dead and Jerry Pascarella, 23, a self-appointed "one-man vice squad," lies in a hospital with a shoulder wound as the result of gunfire Pascarella attributes to his enemies.

Fatally shot last night was a man known to Pascarella as Billy the Greek, later identified by police as William Scodra, 22, who had been free on bond as a suspected holdup man.

Pascarella told Dr. Joseph Colla, acting coroner, that Billy the Greek lured him from a lunch room, where he was drinking a cup of coffee, by telling him he was wanted outside. As they passed through the door two men opened fire.

Expressing belief that the bullets were intended only for himself, Pascarella told Dr. Colla the gunmen apparently hit his companion by mistake.

Pascarella gained attention shortly before last Christmas by conducting a sledge-hammer campaign against slot machines. He described himself as a former slot machine operator and said he wanted to clean out machines owned by racketeers.

Pascarella gave the acting coroner the names of two men he thought were his assailants, and the license number of an automobile in which they made their escape. Police said the car apparently had been stolen in Marietta, O.

Sergeant Edward Foley said the dead man had been arrested and turned over to Trumbull county authorities Feb. 7 in connection with a restaurant holdup at McKinley Heights, later being released on bond.

OHIOAN RAPS FILM DEFERMENTS, SAYS FARMING MORE ESSENTIAL

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Rep. Cliff Clevenger (R.-Ohio) suggests that the movies are less essential to the war effort than are farm workers.

Noting that the selective service system had authorized deferment for some movie workers, Clevenger asked in a house record statement:

"May we not hope that consideration may be given to essential workers in agriculture and some standard be given draft board officials in the food-producing districts?"

The Ohioan said that farm operations were disrupted and production curbed by conscription of farm labor for the army or because of workers going to defense industries for higher pay.

"May not sugar, milk, canned fruit and vegetables, meat and grain be more essential than a lot of salacious bedroom drama, low comedy and propaganda too generously interlarded into legitimate entertainment?" asked Clevenger.

Might we not mobilize a least a couple divisions for the army or navy out of the myriad of employes in the department of agriculture so busily engaged in farming the farmers this last decade? Or, if not that, of returning them to the farm where their activity may be practical and useful to the country?

"Can we not put boondoggling, do-gooding, and social gains on ice for the duration and get seriously at work arming the nation to save itself?"

GALION BANK TO BE PUT IN LIQUIDATION

Stockholders of Commercial Savings To Meet March 1 To Ratify Proposal.

By CATHERINE RORICK
(Staff Correspondent)

GALION — The Commercial Savings Bank company, one of Galion's two banking institutions, will be liquidated with the next few months, it was announced today by E. B. Beall, president of the institution. Notices have been mailed to stockholders to meet March 2 for the purpose of ratifying the proposed action.

In view of the recognized strong financial position of the bank, its plan to retire from the banking field comes as a great surprise to the community. Beall states that the condition of his health, as well as that of C. W. Tracht, cashier of the institution, makes the step advisable.

These two gentlemen plan to devote their entire time to the affairs of the Tri-County Savings and Loan company which is housed in the same building. Beall has other interests that demand considerable time and attention, he said.

In the letter to stockholders, officers of the bank state that it may take six months or longer to complete liquidation, as the bank does not want to press its borrowers unreasonably. All depositors may withdraw their funds at their pleasure. These deposits will remain insured until withdrawn. Savings deposits remaining until June 1 will receive full interest. The stockholders in all probability, it was stated, will receive about $250 per share in final liquidation.

The Commercial Savings Bank company was organized in 1905. Beall has been connected with the institution for 31 years, starting as bookkeeper in 1910. He regrets the conditions that will bring about his retirement from the local commercial banking field, and states that he wishes to express his gratitude to borrowers and depositors alike for their co-operation that made possible the success of the institution.

Beall will continue as director and stockholder in the First National bank of Crestline.

The Tri-County Savings and Loan company, formerly the Guaranty Savings and Loan company, will following the completion of liquidation of the Commercial Savings bank, occupy the present banking quarters used by both institutions.

Sport Podge

by REX HESS

The farewell-party league, which has been in full operation in this community this long time now as the captains and the kings and the soldiers and marines depart, finally caught up with the high school athletic department last night.

So the coaches and their managers betook themselves to Cage Coach Vern Hoffman's home for purposes of eating spaghetti dinner and bidding farewell to Assistant Basketball Coach Vere Smith who leaves soon for the navy.

Grid Coach Paul Snyder, who has something of a reputation as a chef extraordinary, presided at the range, and the output was both good and plentiful.

But Paul was suffering from a hangover from his high scoring football season. He closed the gates of mercy and piled it on.

Six pounds of spaghetti for 12 people was too darn much!

* * *

So what do I have all night but nightmares? And I wake up every now and then with stuff like this running through the head:

* * *

Get along little doggie, I'm feelin' so logey,
I'm swamped in spaghetti clear up to my knees.
Get along little doggie, I'm just an old fogey,
But I've had a plenty of that sauce and cheese.

* * *

Forty more winks, and it goes like this:

When you're all heavy laden with care—and spaghetti,
There's nothing will get in your hair, like spaghetti.

* * *

Roll over again, and awake with a start to find:

Why it's crawling on the floor,
From the stove is pouring more,
For gosh sake close the door,
Gunga Din.

But when it gets down to this:

And as jokes and witty stories
Came through the open door,
A spaghetti string crept slowly in,
And POSED upon the floor.

It's time to get up and take a soda mint.

Mounts Capture Ohio Title

Wooster Defeat Practically Assures Loop Crown.

(By Associated Press)

Mt. Union today was practically assured its second consecutive Ohio conference basketball championship.

The Purple Raiders last night defeated Wooster, 57 to 40, for their 11th conference victory with only one loss. The loss dropped Wooster to third place with eight games won and one lost, behind Capital with 10 and 1.

The Mounts have only Oberlin and Kenyon yet to play, and both teams have little chance of stopping the champs. On the other hand, Wooster has yet to meet Muskingum, the only team which has defeated the Purple Raiders.

Capital, too, has two games remaining, one with Heidelberg and the other with Ohio Northern, the latter team barely defeated a few days ago.

Capital had a scare at Columbus in its game with Kenyon, which Capital won, 60 to 51. For the first five minutes it looked as if the Lutherans would be in for a tough time as the Lords surged to a 12-4 advantage. However, Capital soon recovered and at the half was leading 27-23.

Forward Bob Kalish of Capital led the scoring with 21 points.

In another conference tilt at Bowling Green, John Carroll defeated the BeeGees, 38 to 28.

At Youngstown, lanky Bob Gerber, Toledo university center, scored 24 points to bolster his new Ohio three-year high-point record as he led the Rockets to an 80-43 victory over the Penguins.

Gerber, who was banished from the game at the opening of the fourth period for fouls, ran his total for the year to 433 points and his three-year aggregate to 1,219. On Saturday he passed the old three-year record of 1,189 made by Chuck Chuckovits, former Toledo star.

In other games, Taylor university of Upland, Ind., defeated Bluffton, 67 to 54, and Kentucky Wesleyan of Winchester, Ky., won from Rio Grande, 61 to 55, in two overtime periods.

* * *

Tonight's games: Denison at Muskingum, Capital at Heidelberg, Akron at Kent State, Calvin at De Sales, Wilmington at Miami, Dayton at Wittenberg and Ohio university at Marietta.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

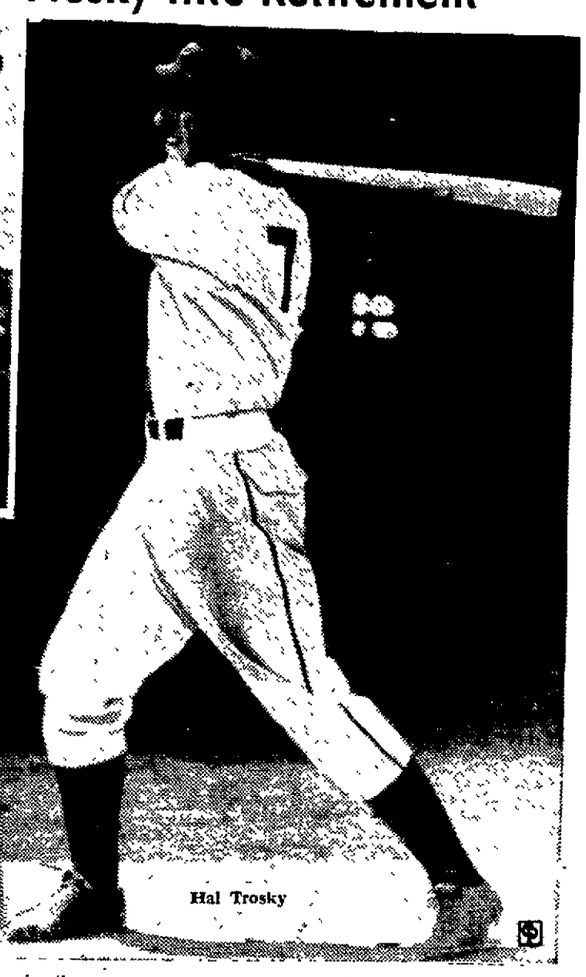
Trosky and son

Oscar Grimes



Hal Trosky

One of the leading first basemen in the major leagues for several years, Harold Arthur Trosky, of the Cleveland Indians, announces he is through with baseball for this year. Trosky has been bothered with headaches for some time and last year he had to leave the club before the end of the season. Trosky, at his home in Norway, Ia., disclosed he may return to baseball in 1943 if he feels better. Trosky, 29 years old, joined the Tribe in 1933, coming from Toledo, where he had batted .323. Previously he had been with Cedar Rapids, Dubuque, Quincy and Burlington. In nine years with the Indians, Trosky batted .313. His best year was in 1936 when he averaged .343 and led the league in runs-batted-in. His home run bat has won many games for the Tribe. Among those mentioned as possible successors to the big first baseman is Oscar Grimes, infielder with the Tribe for four seasons.

Flxibles Nip Sohio Cagers

Clippers Capture 38-33 Decision on Ram Hill.

Fighting on even terms through three quarters, the Blue Goose Sohions were finally nicked by the Loudonville Flxible Clippers in the last stanza on the Madison high floor last night. The game got off to a slow start with both teams playing cautious ball. At the end of the first period the score was tied, six all. The Clippers then stepped out with four buckets in quick order but the Sohions matched them with two and two fouls to trail 13 to 15 at the half.

Both teams turned on the heat in the third stanza and the count was knotted, 23 to 23, at the beginning of the fourth quarter.

In the last four minutes with the Clippers leading by 10 points, the Sohions put on a final rally which the gun ended with Loudonville ahead 38 to 23. Bob Bogantz with 16 markers led the Blue Goose while Atterholt with 10 paced the Flxes.

In the lid lifter the East Mansfield school turned in a one point won over the Lucas Junior Hi.

The East Enders trailed through three quarters then took the lead in the fading minutes of the fray The final score was 17 to 16.

The games were played for the benefit of the Madison high athletic fund.

Tygers Prep For Massillon

Work Against Six-Man Defensive Setup.

Expecting to encounter one of the best defensive teams the Tygers have met this year, Coach Vern Hoffman has introduced a new practice wrinkle in preparation for Mansfield high's cage battle tomorrow night against a veteran Massillon team at Senior high gym.

Hoffman has been working his hoopsters against a 6-man defense, which is one more than the law allows but probably presents no more closely knit defense than Massillon will spring.

* * *

The Tyger tutor last night expressed himself as well pleased with the showing of his charges against this clogged defense.

"The boys have really been whipping that ball around," Hoffman reported.

Promised a dinner by Hoffman if they won 12 games in the regular season, the Tygers punched the meal ticket last week-end when they raised their record to 13 wins against five defeats as they scored victories at Hamilton and Springfield.

* * *

Now they've been promised an improvement in the menu if they take Massillon.

Student Mag Urges Maroon Withdrawal

CHICAGO—(AP)—Pulse, the University of Chicago student magazine which frequently has suggested changes in the University's athletic policy, today advocated "withdrawal from the Western conference" before being "thrown out."

* * *

"We're through," said an editorial, "* * * not because of bad breaks. We are through because athletics and the university education system do not mix. * * * the solution lies in our withdrawal from the Western conference. There is no reason for our waiting to be thrown out."

* * *

The latter eventuality was foreseen by the writers, Jack Glabman and Werner Baum, in next month's meeting of conference directors and faculty representatives after adoption of a plan by the university to award bachelor degrees after two years.

CHAPTER VII

He said pleasantly, "I'm sorry you had to rush this way. I had to rush, too. I'm not supposed to go to the office on Saturday, but today I did."

"And I'm supposed to and didn't except for three-quarters of a day. I musn't forget my flowers, mother. Thank you for sending them, Mr. Larrabee."

She thought for a second that he was going to blush as he produced cigarets and searched through several obviously unfamiliar pockets before he found matches while Mrs. Barth went to the kitchen to fetch the flowers from the refrigerator.

Stephen's car, a black coach of modest make, waited at the curb

"Anyway it won't take us long to get there," he said. "I've heard a lot about you from Harriet"

"I'm sorry I can't say the same about you. You're new here, aren't you?"

"Well, yes. Transferred here from Baltimore. That's my home I suppose after New York it seems pretty dull here to you I've been in New York, but I can't say I like it. All right for a visit, but I'd hate to live there. You don't live there."

She smiled "I do. And I love it. I wouldn't live anywhere else."

He laughed "You can have it. I'd rather be a big fish in a little pond."

"So you want to be a big fish?"

"I hope to be. I'm trying to be."

"I wish you luck'

"Thanks It's a tough grind when you're young today and out on your own You've got to be good"

"Ambitious, aren't you?"

He laughed again "That's what everybody tells me I guess I'm just made that way"

"I guess I am, too"

At the country club, a flat, white building with an encircling veranda, Stephen parked his car meticulously so that he would have no difficulty in getting it out

Walking to the clubhouse he said, scanning the night sky, "I hope it doesn't rain tomorrow. I want to play some golf."

"You play a lot?"

His short laugh was almost apologetic. "Yes Every weekend. When you're chasing that little white pill around, you forget everything It relaxes me like nothing else . . . I suppose we'll find them in the cocktail lounge don't you?"

In the mirrored, modern cocktail lounge, there were five couples in Harriet's party Judith knew them all, though Harriet's seniority had given them a different set of friends. In a flame-colored frock with her long, sleek black hair in a knot at the nape of her neck Harriet looked animated and lovely and more slender than usual Larry, an auburn-haired, rather sharp-featured young man, was content to let his wife steal the limelight and looked at her with unconcealed admiration. It was a big night for them. Judith wondered what had prompted the generosity on the part of Larry's Uncle Bill, an elderly, frugal bachelor, until she remembered that they had named their second son for him

In recent years in Harriet's first frank glance at Judith, sparks of envy had flown from her dark eyes But only briefly . . . There was no animosity, no sharp jealousy between them To Harriet, Judith was beautiful and clever. To Judith her sister was generous, lovable and honest Though they had never shared each other's innermost thoughts, a deep and genuine affection existed between them

Judith was embraced and kissed 'I'm so glad you came, darling! You know everybody, don't you? Larry, order another round of drinks" She put her arm through Judith's arm and looked up at Stephen 'I think you were beginning to doubt I had a little sister"

"And I hope you're going to be awfully good friends I've been long enough pulling strings to have you meet'

Judith smiled Stephen looked again as though he were about to blush

Cocktails cigarets, conversation the latter frivolous and meaningless Sitting beside Harriet, Judith said little Harriet and Larry and their friends were enjoying themselves so much that nothing she could say was either desired or important Moreover, she felt odd in a married group, her life, her interests her work were so different from theirs

She was thinking of Max and how commonplace he would think this little party when she realized that Stephen was looking at her through the smoke of his cigaret, his eyes clear and innocent When their eyes met he smiled with boyish charm and then looked away frowning as a small boy does when he is embarrassed to find himself caught off-guard

When they entered the dining-room Harriet moved to her side 'Don't you like Steve? Everybody does And he's going to be important

I think he's very nice'

Though the dinner lasted endlessly, conversation did not languish When the music in the ballroom began, Judith knew that Stephen was trying to make up his mind to ask her to dance

Harriet and Larry went in first and the others followed.

"May I?" Stephen asked

'Of course'

He danced extremely well she thought

"You belong to the club?' she asked.

"No But I hope to—some day

He hoped to do a great deal He probably would, for behind his good looks, his innocence, his gentleness was a driving ambition. And something else . . . A sense of inferiority with girls He wasn't sure of himself.

"I feel honored being with you tonight."

"Honored?" She looked up and laughed. "What has Harriet been telling you about me?" She wanted to put him at ease. "Do your friends call you Steve?"

"Some. My family doesn't"

"Then I won't. But what has Harriet—"

"About your work and your success."

"I'm not as successful as that."

"You're just modest."

"I hope I am."

"You're going back tomorrow?"

"Yes, tomorrow afternoon."

* * *

He said no more then, and soon the music ended and they returned to the table. For some hours after that she danced with Larry and the other young men of the party, remaining away at rather long intervals to speak to the people she knew. But on returning to her own party she was conscious that only Stephen was conscious that only Stephen was acutely aware of her presence. It was touching; it was amusing; it was also rather uncomfortable. "He's such a big little boy," she thought. "a little boy at a party who wants a second helping of ice cream and is afraid to ask for it." Once when the music was sweetly sad and her thoughts flew to Max, she saw Stephen looking at her thoughtfully.

2—Card of Thanks

WITH REGARD TO A CARD OF THANKS

Very often a Card of Thanks in The News-Journal meets a need which can hardly be solved in any other way. Not only is it a gracious expression of gratitude to those who have sent floral tributes, but also courteously acknowledges the service and kindness of the many to whom a personal note of thanks cannot well be mailed, or whose names or addresses are not known.

A "Card of Thanks" can now be arranged by telephone: Dial 4251-6, ask for Miss Lane or Miss Stone, either will be glad to render whatever service and advice you need.

MARKET SHOWS SCANT BULLISH INCLINATIONS

Rails and Few Other Leaders Edge Upward, But Buyers Still Shy at War News.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK — Scant bullish inspiration was found in the war news today and stock market leaders generally followed a narrowly irregular course.

Inclined to edge forward in the early proceedings were Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Southern Railway, Great Northern, General Motors, Chrysler, U. S. Steel, Anaconda and Allied Chemical.

Dow Chemical slipped to a new low. Backward tendencies were exhibited by Bethlehem, Sears Roebuck, Woolworth, Goodyear, Kennecott, Union Carbide, International Harvester and Philip Morris.

Bulletins from the far Pacific continued to give the Japanese the best of the conflict in that part of the world and potential share buyers, consequently, were disposed to step carefully pending the appearance of more hopeful international developments.

Boardrooms studied the Dun & Bradstreet compilation of bank clearings in 23 cities for the week ended Feb. 18 disclosing an increase of 2.9 per cent over the corresponding period last year and 8.5 per cent over the previous week. The gain over a week ago was despite the holiday and amounted to $504,651,000.

Notice was taken of the Engineering News-Record survey placing heavy construction awards for the short week including Lincoln's birthday recess at $102,218,000. It was the fifth consecutive week in which the $100,000,000 mark was topped.
